Combs Family Reunion To Be Held August 15

The Combs Family Association Board of Directors held its third annual meeting recently at the Campbell House, Lexington, Kentucky.

Twenty-five officers and directors were present and Gene Combs of Hazard, President of the Association, presided. Other officers for 1965 attending the meeting were: Mrs. Maurice Kaufman, Lexington, Kentucky Vice President; Mason Combs, Pineville, Kentucky - Secretary-Treasurer; Mrs. Earle Combs, Richmond, Kentucky - Historian; Denver Knuckles, Barbourville, Kentucky - Sergeant At Arms; Bert T. Combs, Lexington, Kentucky - Chairman of Board of Directors.

The date for the 1965 reunion was set for Sunday August 15th, 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at Memorial Gymnasium, Hazard, Kentucky. Former Governor Bert Combs, Chairman of the Program Committee, outlined plans for an informative and varied program.

The executive board voted to make the Combs Reunion a major event for Perry County in Kentucky's 1965 Homecoming.

The attendance at the 1964 reunion totaled 1500 and it is estimated that this figure may be doubled in 1965 since this is Homecoming Year in Kentucky.

"We want to extend an invitation to every member of the Combs family to attend the reunion," says Gene Combs, President of the Association. "Good food, a well planned program, lots of handshaking and good old fashion socializing will be the order of the day. Come and bring your whole family and be a part of probably the largest reunion ever held in Kentucky."

V.F.W. Area C Meeting Planned

Commander C. H. Rogers, of Oliver Hazard Perry Post 7387, Veterans of Foreign Wars, announced today that there will be an Area C meeting at the Hazard Post on Saturday, May 8. Area C consists of all posts in Eastern Kentucky.

The program will be released at a later date.

Watershed Men From 10 States To Meet Here

Forest watershed managers from 10 states will visit Hazard, Kentucky on April 28 and 29 to learn the latest research findings concerning strip-mine revegetation and restoration. Central States Forest Experiment Station research scientists will show the group their study areas in Perry and Knott Counties and discuss the research at the Kentucky Power Company Auditorium.

In all, 46 people will attend the training conference. Most of them will be Forest Service watershed managers but officials from the West Virginia Department of Natural Resources and the Kentucky Division of Strip Mining and Reclamation will also participate. They will discuss how to manage storm runoff and how to control acid water formation on spoil banks, how to seed them to proper species of grasses, how to handle access roads, and how to prepare the banks for productive uses.

More than 30 study areas have been established near Hazard in the last year, since a cooperative agreement was signed by William B. Sturgill of the Kentucky Oak Mining Company and Richard D. Lane, Director of the Central States Station. The company has provided land, labor, and the use of equipment to the U. S. Forest Service research team.

In its strip-mine restoration research the Central States cooperates with the Kentucky Department of Natural Resources, the Tennessee Valley Authority, the Kentucky Reclamation Association, and other public and private interests as well as the mining industry.

another member, announced meeting with an interesting and instructive address concerning Kiwanis characteristics, the program on "Jobless Fathers."

Thursday evening, April 15, Lt. Gov. Roberson attended a similar meeting at Manchester and was accompanied only by a Kiwan-Ann, Mrs. Raymond Roberson.

League Managers Will Meet April 27

A meeting for all Little League and Babe Ruth League Managers will be held Tuesday, April 27, at 7 p.m. at the Perry County Health Department.

Rosters must be turned in on this date.

Civic Improvement Awards Presented To Garden Club Leaders

The Sears Roebuck Civic Improvement Award, a check in the amount of $200 for the best report showing civic improvement to a community in the Mountain Laurel District of The State Garden Clubs of Kentucky was presented to Mrs. L. D. Gorman, in behalf of the Mountain View Garden Club at the state meeting of Garden Clubs held in Owensboro on April 20th - 22nd.

The award was based on projects planned and completed, which included the planting of 125 pink and white dogwood trees on a 2 mile scenic stretch, maintaining and decorating highway island on special occasions, such as Easter and Christmas, placing of 6 litter barrels around schools, hanging 25 flower filled baskets on Main Street and ten Evergreen bushes in special containers on busy street corners on Main Street.

In addition to the Sears Roebuck award the club received a Certificate of Commendation from the Citizens Beautification League personally signed by Gov. Edward T. Breathitt.

The Kentucky Gold Medalion and the Blue and White Award Ribbon from the National Council of State Garden Clubs were presented to Mrs. Gorman and Mrs. Gene E. Parker, president of the Garden Club of Perry County for their joint participation in the Flower Show "Circus With Flowers", held in Hazard last September.

Other awards included the 100% National Gardener award presented by Mrs. W. W. Reeves, National Chairman to both clubs.

First place awards were presented to the Mountain View Garden Club for best club report, best scrapbook and best yearbook. The anti-Litter and Standard of Excellence awards were also received by the Club.

The Mountain View Gardenettes, formerly the Twigs and Branches Junior Garden Club received three of the four state awards offered. There were 1st place trophies for the Best Junior Garden Club Achievement Report, and Conservation and Anti-Litter program. They received a red ribbon for the 2nd best scrapbook.

Mrs. Gene Combs, president of The Garden Club of Kentucky, Inc., presided at the meeting which was held at Gabes Motor Inn.

Oklahoma State Forestry Camp To Be Held Near Hazard

A 10,000-acre forest near Hazard, Kentucky, will be the site of Oklahoma State University's 18th annual forestry summer camp, according to Professor Glen R. Durrell, forestry department head.

Dates are May 31 through July 24. Expected attendance is 40.

The 8-weeks summer camp is required of all OSU forestry students, preferably following completion of sophomore courses. Eight hours credit is granted on successful completion of the summer camp courses in forest utilization, protection, measurement of timber stands, and silviculture.

The forest where the summer camp will be held is administered by University of Kentucky. The Jefferson and Cumberland national forests will be visited during the summer.

Professors Nat Walker and David W. Robinson will serve as instructors during the first four weeks. Professors Ted H. Silker and Edwin Y. Wheeler will serve during the second four weeks.

Oklahoma State University is land-grant agricultural college for Oklahoma. Enrollment is approximately 13,000. The forestry department was established in 1946, and the annual summer camp has been held in eleven different states. Last previous camp in Kentucky was in 1953, on the Berea College forest.

tion included Mrs. J. Gordon Gose, National Council of State Garden Clubs, Inc., president, Mrs. Brodie S. Crump, Greenville, Miss., banquet speaker, Miss Louise Ballard, District Director of South Atlantic Region and many others.

Delegates and members attending the convention from the Mountain View Club in addition to Mrs. Gorman were: Mrs. W. Glenn Reynolds, President of the local club and State Book Chairman, Mrs. Norman P. Cornett, Mountain Laurel District Treasurer and State Publicity Chairman, Mrs. Floyd P. Hall, Mrs. John L. Ray and Miss Mary Morgan.

Delegates from the Garden Club of Perry County were Mrs. Combs, Mrs. Parker, Mrs. T. E. Moore, State High School Gardeners Chairman, Mrs. W. W. Reeves, both State and National Gardener Chairman and Mr. Reeves.

During business session, the By-laws were amended to change the name of the five regions of Kentucky to read Districts instead of Regions - The Blue Star Highway was extended to include the Mountain Parkway and Parkway extensions to Whitesburg. Members were also given cards by Mrs. Connie Quinn to write down the license numbers of litter violators to be mailed into the State Police.

Sturgill Elected President of C. C.

The Hazard Chamber of Commerce has elected new officers and board of directors, among them Hazard coal operator William B. Sturgill, president.

He succeeds M. K. Eblen in the organization's top post.

Here are the other officers: Dr. C. C. Rutledge, vice president; George Kawaja, vice president; Arlie Barber, treasurer; Edith Napier, secretary.

The new board of directors members are George Pendleton, Garland Smith, C. B. Feltner, William P. Morton, Floyd Hall, Claude Isaacs, Lee Crutchfield, I. F. Burke, Willie Dawahare, C. C. Colwell, Roscoe Davis and L. D. Gorman.

Evangelism in Depth Meeting Set May 3

Plans are now completed for the May 3 Evangelism In Depth for the Appalachian Region rally in Hazard, beginning 9:00 A. M. in the First Baptist Church. Plans for similar rallies to be held in the Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church of Prestonsburg on May 4 and in the Presbyterian Church of Beattyville on May 6 are nearing completion. These rallies are open to ministers, Christian workers and lay people.

One of the featured speakers, the Rev. Juan Isais, will arrive by plane at the Knoxville, Tennessee airport Saturday, May 1 at 2:00 P.M. The Rev. Isais is former director of the Latin America Mission's division of evangelism and served as national coordinator for Evangelism In Depth in Nicaragua, Costa Rica and Guatemala. At the present time he is coordinating Evangelism In Depth movements in the northern zone of Mexico and the Caribbean area. The Rev. Dayton Roberts, assistant general director of the Latin America Mission with headquarters in Bogota, N. J. will arrive by car on his way from Costa Rica to Boston, Mass. Both of these men have seen Evangelism In Depth operate in Latin America and will explain how this program of mobilization to evangelize successfully worked there.

Mr. Joel H. Darby of North Syracuse, New York, will also have a part in the program to stress the importance of prayer in connection with Evangelism In Depth. Mr. Darby is a sales manager for a clothing firm but is better known for his volunteer religious activities, which includes pioneering a laymen's movement, "The Christian Home League" and conducting services to emphasize family devotions.

Professors Nat Walker and David W. Robinson will serve as instructors during the first four weeks. Professors Ted H. Silker and Edwin Y. Wheeler will serve during the second four weeks.

Oklahoma State University is land-grant agricultural college for Oklahoma. Enrollment is approximately 13,000. The forestry department was established in 1946, and the annual summer camp has been held in eleven different states. Last previous camp in Kentucky was in 1953, on the Berea College forest.

The Rev. Garland Franklin, chairman of the coordinating committee will be the master of ceremonies for the day. Music will be under the direction of the Rev. E. Raymond Haddix, director of the Scripture Memorial Mountain Mission. Special music will be provided by Mr. Joel Darby on his accordion and vocal selections by the Rev. Glen Dix, who will also present Bible correspondence courses provided by the Source of Light Mission, of which he is director.

Conferees will bring a "pot-luck" dinner to be eaten in the dining room of the First Baptist Church.

During the day counties participating in the Evangelism In Depth rally will be given an opportunity to meet and take steps to organize local committees to sponsor the program. There will also be time during the day for questions and discussion.

The day long rally will be climaxed by the showing of the film, "Centerville Awakening". This is one of the most significant Christian films ever produced in close cooperation with over five hundred ministers from many denominations.

Funds Allocated To State For Adult Education Classes

Kentucky's Department of Education has been granted $475,553 in Federal funds to start free basic education programs for adults who need help in such subjects as reading, writing, and arithmetic.

Dr. Harry M. Sparks, State superintendent of public instruction, said the allocation was based upon the number of people in the state over 18 years old with less than six years of education.

C. F. Esham, director of adult education in the State Department of Education, reported that 78 Kentucky school districts so far have indicated they want to start—or continue—adult basic education programs for this fiscal year.

An earlier allocation to Kentucky makes a total of $528,000 available to the state by July 1 under Title II, part B of the Economic Opportunity Act. More classes will be added as the need develops, Esham said. Students may enter the classes, which will begin as soon as possible, at any time.

The Act provides for basic education for adults with less than an eighth-grade education regardless of their economic status, Esham said.

Esham, whose office will administer the program, pointed out that participating districts will have to meet these requirements: compliance with the 1964 Civil Rights Act concerning integration of both pupils and teachers; teachers must undergo special training; and the schooling must be in keeping with local community action plans against poverty, if the local community has such a program.

Esham added that if there are more requests for programs than money available, "we must apply certain standards . . . we must give priority to those on the lower end of the educational and income ladder."

Further information can be obtained by writing Mr. Esham, Kentucky Department of Education, State Office Building, Frankfort, 40601.

KENTUCKY GOVERNOR Edward T. Breathitt pins a Homecoming badge on Lexington waitress, Mrs. Ruby Sparks, as A. J. Grisanti, president of Kentucky Restaurant Association, looks on. Mrs. Sparks and Mr. Grisanti represent restaurants all over the state, which are dedicated this year to Kentucky Homecoming. Special emphasis throughout the year will be given to "Old Fashioned Kentucky Cooking" and an even bigger serving of famous Kentucky hospitality and friendliness.

Advice On "Getting Your Money's Worth"

YOUR MONEY'S WORTH

By Mildred Ritchie, Nutritionist
Is your family a typical American? Most likely they are and if so more than one-half of your money for food goes for milk, meat, and eggs.

About one-fifth of your food dollar is spent for vegetables and fruits.

The rest is divided equally among the grain products; the fats, oils, sugar, and sweets; and such miscellaneous items as spices, vinegar, leavening agents, coffee, tea, and other beverages.

Do you ever wonder if your food dollar is being spent to the best advantage? A good way to determine this is to compare their food value to their dollar value.

The following examples show the kinds of foods that are apt to give the most food value for the money.

Everybody needs milk in some form because it is our best source of calcium and also an important source of protein and riboflavin.

One serving of fluid whole milk, evaporated milk, buttermilk, skim milk, or dry milk furnishes about the same amounts of these nutrients but at widely different cost.

Dry milk generally cost least and fluid whole milk the most for a serving. One can serve dry milk for 5c a quart while fluid whole milk will cost 27c a quart.

Some of the milk products give good food value for the money. Cottage cheese provides good amounts of protein and riboflavin and can be counted as a bargain for them. Cheese of the Swiss and Cheddar types usually are more economical sources of Calcium than cottage cheese.

Meat, poultry, fish, and eggs are important mainly for the high-quality protein, iron, and B vitamins they provide. Dry beans, peas, and nuts are valuable for some of the same nutrients and can be used some of the time in the place of animal foods.

Dry beans give high food value for the money spent.

Meats can be purchased wisely to give one worth while savings. To rate meats, poultry, and fish as economical sources of nutrients, judge them on a comparable basis. A comparison should be made on the cost of serving of lean meat. The fat, bone, and gristle is not a table portion. The lean parts of beef, lamb, pork, and poultry are much alike in food value, except that pork is a better source of thiamine.

Cheaper cuts of meats may mean saving money and getting about the same food value if there is not a large amount of bone, fat, and gristle.

Liver and other variety meats are very high in many nutrients. Money spent for them is usually well spent.

Eggs furnish valuable amounts of several nutrients. Eggs of top quality are best for frying, poaching and cooking in the shell, but ones of lower market quality are as good for scrambling, baking, or combining with other foods.

Prices may vary for eggs of same grade but different sizes. A good rule to follow is: Small eggs are as economical as large ones when they are at least one-fourth cheaper; medium-sized eggs, when they are one-eighth cheaper.

Color of the shells have no effect on the food value of the eggs. Vegetables and fruits furnish a large share of the vitamin A value and most of the vitamin C value.

One day's supply of Vitamin A can be bought - as a dark-green or deep yellow vegetables—for a few cents. Examples are carrots, squash, sweet potatoes, spinach or greens.

Most other common fruit and vegetables, including light-green and pale yellow ones can be expensive sources of vitamin A because they contain such amounts of it. You would have to eat large amounts of them to get enough vitamin A for a day.

Oranges and grapefruit and their juices and raw cabbage generally supply the most vitamin C for the money. Some dark-green leaves, potatoes, and sweet potatoes, properly cooked give good amounts of vitamin C.

Tomatoes, canned and juice, are a fairly economical source of vitamin C except when fresh tomatoes are in season.

All fruits and vegetables contribute toward the daily need for several nutrients. A variety of them each day helps insure a good diet.

Whole-grain, restored, or enriched cereals, and bread can mean extra food value for the money.

Board Members of Ky. Garden Club Meet Wednesday in Owensboro

The Executive Board of the Garden Club of Kentucky Inc. met on Wednesday morning at Gabe's Restaurant in Owensboro.

During this session the Board discussed and adopted the following resolution: "Since posting of any political placards, literature and other forms of advertising on trees, fences, and telephone posts, detract from the beauty of the streets and highways of Kentucky, be it resolved that the Garden Club of Kentucky Inc. ask all candidates of political offices to refrain from posting."

The Executive Board further stated it would like to go on record as reaffirming their opposition to the construction of Bunches Creek Dam in Cumberland Falls State Park.

The Board has wired Governor Breathitt of their opposition to this construction and further has requested that all Garden Clubs in Kentucky contact their Senators and Representatives regarding this matter, as well as candidates for Club of Kentucky Inc. ask all political offices in regard to first stated resolution.

Awards Breakfast Held Thursday At Gabe's Restaurant In Owensboro

An Awards Breakfast was held in the Southern Terrace Room at Gabe's Restaurant in Owensboro on Thursday morning, with the Garden Clubs of Madisonville as hosts. The Breakfast also honored the Club Presidents of the 151 Garden Clubs in Kentucky.

State awards were presented to various Kentucky Garden Clubs for outstanding achievements during the past year. Special awards were also presented to Junior and Senior High School Gardener Clubs which are sponsored by Garden Clubs in some Kentucky Cities.

Mrs. J. Richard Gott, Jr., National Council Treasurer presented the Kentucky Garden Club, Inc., with a check awarding them for the greatest increase in membership during the past year.

The National Awards were presented by Mrs. Mayes, National Awards Chairman, to the Mountain View Garden Club and the Garden Club of Kentucky Inc. to hold their County, Hazard for their combined work in presenting the "Circus of Flowers" flower show.

Guest speaker was Mr. Don L. Cudworth, Public Relations Region Director for Sears Roebuck and Company, Chicago. He spoke on Civic Development and stated there were 145 Garden Clubs in Kentucky participating in the Sears Project. Mr. Cudworth spoke of the Power the Women of Kentucky have over State and National decisions, and suggested that Garden Club members "not hide their light under a basket" but all clubs participate in the Civic Development Project sponsored by Sears. The Garden Club of Kentucky Inc. was presented with a check for $2,000 to be used by the Garden Clubs throughout Kentucky for the Sears, Roebuck and Company Civic Development project.

Following the Breakfast, delegates met in the Rapallo Room for the casting of ballots for new officers for the Garden Club of Kentucky Inc. Officers elected and installed were: President - Mrs. J. V. Mott, Millersburg; 1st V.P. - Mrs. Harold Blevins, Lexington; 2nd V.P. - Mrs. Glen Ropp, Glasgow; 3rd V.P. - Mrs. James F. Hazard Homemakers Will Honor Members at Annual Meeting

The Hazard Homemakers met at the Kentucky Power Company auditorium on Wednesday, April 21st at 1:30 P.M. The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Ralph Peters, President.

The devotional was given by Tom Kelly, Mrs. Milt Martin and Mrs. J. D. Larkey. Also on the same day they have the following for 25 years of service in the Homemakers: Mrs. K. N. Salyers, Mrs. Ed Combs, Mrs. P. L. Johnson, Mrs. Elmira Combs.

The hostesses, Mrs. Hurshel Skaggs and Mrs. Ralph Peters, served Toffee Bars to the delegates to Farm and Home Week, gave an interesting report on the meetings. The lesson on Table Mats you can make was given by Mrs. Milt Martin who had several mats on display.

Place Mats are the most versatile type of table textiles and probably the most used. You should think about the texture, color and pattern and in fabrics which are numerous and should be colorful, such as indianhead, broadcloth, gingham, denim, linen, sailcloth, burlap, organdy and textured fabrics.

A good size for your place mats is 14 inches by 18 inches, but this will depend on the size of the table and the number of places that are needed.

The Hazard Homemakers will have five members to be recognized for perfect attendance at the Perry County annual meeting at Ary Community Center on May 7th. They are Mrs. Mable Hall, Mrs. J. D. Marsee, Mrs. Tom Kelly, Mrs. John McIntyre, Mrs. Chas. Nicholson, Sr., Mrs. Henry Howard, Mrs. Tolbert Holliday, Mrs. Hershall Skaggs, Mrs. M. H. Steele, Mrs. P. L. Johnson, Mrs. Ernest Minnich, Mrs. A. N. Peters, Mrs. J. D. Larkey, Mrs. M. X. Yonts, Mrs. Dudley Plummer, Mrs. L. T. Tayloe, and Mrs. Roland Baker.

APRIL 27

Napier FHA Meets At School April 4

By Mallie Spicer

National F.H.A. was April 4-10 Mallie Faye Spicer, reporter, and her committee, Floetta Smith, Brenda Dean, Connie Sexton, and Patty Fugate, were in charge of the activities.

One of the district goals is to strengthen F.H.A. through better public relations. Here are seven ways the M. C. Napier chapter publicized National F.H.A. Week:

1. On Sunday - Each member went to church and had the F.H.A. prayer song written on the church bulletin board.
2. On Monday - Had a display made on the school bulletin board.
3. On Tuesday - Had Teachers appreciation day. The girls presented each teacher with candy and a card saying, "F.H.A.'ers are here to say, Hope you have a pleasant day."
4. On Wednesday - They had papers to give to students telling them about the F.H.A.
5. On Thursday - Worked on a report to send to the local paper.
6. On Friday - The girls sent gifts to the small children who were ill.
7. On Saturday - We had an announcement on the radio about the F.H.A.

LET'S LOOK IT OVER

By Gov. Edward T. Breathitt

In the spring a young boy's fancy normally turns to thoughts of fishing and don't I remember it?

This memory was stirred afresh the other day. I was asked to bring about a diversion of the oil that troubled the waters of the Johnson County creek in which young Nathan Ray Frisby of Staffordville likes to cast his bait.

Knowing well that Nathan Ray, under the Bill of Rights is entitled at all times, especially in the spring, to a full pursuit of happiness, I was moved to action immediately on receipt of this letter, addressed to:

Governor Breathitt

Frankfort, Ky.

Dear Sir:

I am 9 years old and I like to fish.

This is my story.

I was fishing one day and the fish were biting good when the State Garage let their oil into the creek.

Then the fish quit biting.

Then they started dying.

There isn't no fish now.

Would you please do something about it?

Yours truly,

Nathan Ray Frisby.

I can sympathize with and appreciate Nathan's dismay. I'm a fisherman too, and so is my son Edward. I know his six-year-old indignation would be just as great as nine-year-old Nathan's, at having his favorite fishing spot ruined. And, I know a governor's duties include helping nine-year-olds with their problems just as much as they include helping to get new schools and good teachers for all youngsters.

So, I took appropriate steps and then wrote Young Nathan this letter:

Dear Nathan,

I appreciate your nice letter, and I am sorry to learn that oil seeping into your fishing spot has caused the fish to die.

Since you state the oil was from the State garage, I am asking Highway Department officials to investigate the matter and take prompt action to assure this does not happen again.

My request to highway department officials met with quick response. Wendell Bayes, district engineer of the department's Pikeville office was notified and I feel sure that Nathan will find the fish biting again soon. The used oil that polluted the waters of his favorite fishing hole is now being drained into a hole in the ground.

Edward and I slip off occasionally to drop our lines in some nearby pond or Elkhorn Creek near Frankfort. When he caught his first fish—a Catfish—he insisted that it be placed in the pool that surrounds the Floral Clock near the Capitol. This was done but to our sorrow, and especially Edward's, the fish finally died.

Minor Clark, the commissioner of the State Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources and an avid fisherman himself, recently initiated me into the famous Bluegrass Black Bass Busters Brotherhood. This is an organization of Kentucky's finest fishermen, to which I can claim only a dubious membership, and it is dedicated to promoting and encouraging fishing for all species in Kentucky's outstanding lakes, rivers, streams and ponds.

It's not hard to carry out the Bass Busters' aims. Everybody knows that Kentucky offers the finest fishing anywhere and its an easy matter to just talk about it. The fishing is so good here in fact, that the fishermen don't even have to tell "tall fish stories."

So I'll thank the Black Bass Busters right here and now for honoring me with membership in their Brotherhood by telling all of you how great our fishing really is. The waters of Lake Cumberland, Kentucky Lake, Herrington, Lake Cumberland, Kentucky Lake, Herrington, Dewey and Buckhorn lakes, just to mention a few of our own "great lakes" are clear and sparkling and just waiting for you—not to mention the streams, rivers, creeks and ponds.

Southern Mountains Council To Meet

The "war on poverty" will occupy much of the attention of the 53rd Annual Conference of the Council of the Southern Mountains next week in Chattanooga, Tenn. The dinner meeting which opens the conference on Tuesday, April 20, will hear Leon Keyserling, former chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisors. Other names prominent in the program are Wilma Dykeman, Earl Redwine, S. E. Bingham Trio and the New Virginia Minstrels will present an evening of folk music.

The public is invited to all sessions of the conference. Reservations for rooms and meals, at the special conference rate, must be made directly with Carolina and John Popham, Hotel Patten.

Not all of the time of the assembly will be taken up with government and economics. Besides the displays of handicrafts which have been traditional in the conference for 50 years, there will be folk dancing and folk singing. On the second evening of the conference Billy Edd Wheeler, the Bingham Trio and the New Virginia Minstrels will present an evening of folk music.

8 year old Kentucky Tavern is an old smoothie.

The rule is that straight bourbon must be aged 2 years. Many bourbon makers settle on 4. Kentucky Tavern says 8. Eight years is when our bourbon flavor is at its peak. When it's as smooth as a bourbon ever gets. Like we said in the first place, Kentucky Tavern is an old smoothie.

How To Hold FALSE TEETH More Firmly in Place
Do your false teeth annoy and embarrass by slipping, dropping or wobbling when you eat, laugh or talk? Just sprinkle a little PASTEETH on your plates. This alkaline (non-acid) powder holds false teeth more firmly and more comfortably. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get PASTEETH today at drug counters everywhere.

Eggs and having a good time. The Napfor School went on a picnic Friday afternoon.
Mrs. Russ Nixon of Dayton, Ohio, spent Easter with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Napier.
Bill Siller, from Walkertown, visited in our community last week.

Singers to Appear In Cumberland

The Lexington Singers will present a concert on Saturday, April 24, 1965 at 8:00 p.m. at the Southeast Community College in Cumberland. The concert is the final program on the Community Concert Series.
Music of three faiths including "Missa Brevis in B flat by Mozart," a group of Protestant hymn tunes and a setting of a Jewish service by Ernest Black will be presented. The last half of the program will be devoted to a group of folk tunes and selections from "Sentimental Journey," the Singers' 1965 Pop Concert.
The Singers have performed annually with the Central Kentucky Philharmonic Orchestra and have presented a formal concert each spring. For the past four years they have become popular with Central Kentucky audiences through their delightful Pop Concert.
Miss Ann Huddleston is accompanist and assistant conductor for the Singers. Soloists for the sacred numbers are Linda Carey, Judy Warren, Danny Hanson, Charles Ridings and Courtney Allen.
Admission will be by season ticket. Tickets will also be on sale at the door. All students will be admitted free.

PERRY COUNTY SCD NOTES

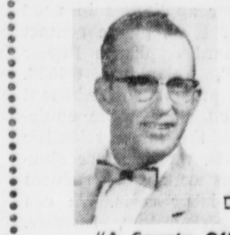

Tile Drainage Will Help Wet Land

By Clay Ratliff
Wet land can be the most productive land on the farm if tile drainage will work. A properly planned and installed tile drainage system will pay for the cost of installation in a short time. A good outlet is a must for this practice. Any open channel, creek or river that is deep enough can be used. Tile needs to be joined as close as possible in the ditch and installed with the proper grade. Care should be taken not to have low and high places in the line. Tile should be covered by hand backfilling, taking care not to move the joints out of place or get dirt in them. An animal guard needs to be installed at the outlet. This can be done by putting two three-eighths inch machine bolts down through the solid outlet about one and one-half inches apart. This keeps animals from getting up into the system and causing damage.
Tile drainage has been laid out and designed for the following farmers this past week: Fred Riley, Buckhorn Community; Sam Allen, Rowdy Community; Dewey Caudill and Paul Edmons, Viper Community; and Robert Engle, Dwarf Community.

Cleanup Underway In Christopher

By Mrs. Ernest Fritts, Sr.
The "Rusty" Fritts family of Hazard were guests of his parents Easter Sunday.
Mr. and Mrs. Louis Keith and children, of Michigan City, Indiana, were overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Fritts, Jr., Wednesday. Mrs. Keith is a niece of Mrs. Fritts.
Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hurst of Allais Road, Hazard, were visitors in our town Sunday. The Hursts are former residents. Mr. Hurst served as bookkeeper for Columbus Mining Company when they were in operation here.
The clean-up campaign is still in progress. We trust it will be a regular operation which will help to keep our town a clean town and a desirable one.
Mr. Dewey Sizemore, of Ashland, was a visitor in the Carlen Byrd home during the week end. Mr. Sizemore is the brother of Mrs. Byrd.
Richard Newberry, who is working in Virginia near the Nations Capitol, visited his parents and friends last week. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Abe Newberry.
Freddie Reeves returned Monday from a trip to Virginia. Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Sizemore, of Corbin, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carlen Byrd.
Mr. and Mrs. Bill Shackelford and baby girl, Mary Ellen, visited Mr. and Mrs. Corless Reeves Tuesday.

NOTICE

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION ON PROPERTY SALE

It has been advertised in The Hazard Herald that the property belonging to Bill Douglas will be sold at the temporary courthouse at 10 a.m. Thursday, April 29.

This property is located on East Main Street across from the A&P Supermarket and next door to Maggard Funeral Home.

The notice of sale failed to state that between Lot No. 15 belonging to Bill Douglas and Lot No. 16 belonging to Maggard Funeral Home there is a 10 foot driveway belonging to both parties. This driveway extends all the way to the rear of the property. This is an easement that can at all times be used by owners and their heirs or assigns.

This 10 foot driveway is plus to the 40 foot of front of the Bill Douglas property. The property is 140 feet deep.

This information is shown in Book No. 96 at Perry County Court Clerk's Office.

Over half of this valuable business property has never been touched by floods and the remainder of the property can economically and conveniently be prepared to avoid flood waters.
